Investment Real Estate Management, LLC Sells Third-Party Contracts

York, PA . . . John H. Gilliland, owner of Investment Real Estate Management LLC (IREM), announced the sale of IREM's third-party management contracts to newly formed, Storage Asset Management, inc. (SAM). The sale also included the website platform www.findmyselfstorage.com. This platform offers internet marketing solutions to self storage owners around the country and includes affordable website design, hosting and management.

John H. Gilliland sold the third-party management contracts to focus on the brokerage of self storage facilities and to grow his Moove In Self Storage portfolio. IREM will remain active in the management of the Moove In portfolio. Gilliland was concerned about three things in the sale of the contracts: "I wanted to make sure that our clients were well cared for by the new company; I wanted our people to retain their jobs; and I wanted to maintain the synergies of having a management company affiliated with our brokerage, consulting and construction activities. SAM's Managing Partners Jay Hoke and Alyssa Quill, both having worked for IREM over the past 8 years, accomplished all three objectives. I am confident that they will be successful, as they take the third-party management business to the next level."
